SNAIDERO

Snaidero's latest creation, Orange, is all about warmth of colour, professionalism and personality, about freedom of use and of composition. These are the ingredients of a kitchen with a young, fresh feel and one that is very ecologically minded. Respect for the environment starts with the manufacturing process and selection of materials, above all ashwood for the insides of the drawers and, on this composition, also for the worktop and the panelling. For the complements, Orange has made a creative, imaginative choice by opting for Ken Scott fabrics for the cushions on the benches, stools and seats.
