1 DOMESTIC LANDSCAPE

Powerfully expressive, the Lou family of coffee tables designed by French designer Christophe Delcourt for Italian manufacturer Minotti draws inspiration from the fluid, organic shapes of tree trunks, true sculptures produced by nature. A masterful technique of high-end cabinetry made the creation of extremely complex curves and veneers possible. Available in various sizes and finishes, arranging Lou coffee tables near one another calls to mind a charming domestic landscape. Available exclusively through Minotti Los Angeles.

4 THE ARCHER SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

The Archer School for Girls is a contemporary girls' school, grades 6 through 12, devoted to educating and empowering girls for leadership in the 21st century. We take a research-based approach to teaching and learning that explores and refines the ways girls learn best. We are committed to reflecting the face of Greater Los Angeles: students come from 81 zip codes and 155 feeder schools, and 39% of the student body are students of color. archer.org

5 THE COUNTRY CLUB WHERE EVERYONE IS A MEMBER

The Country Club, the next new hot spot dining and drinking destination in Orange County is set to open by the end of the year. Located on Costa Mesa's bustling 17th Street, The Country Club will feature a chef-driven menu of traditional American cuisine, hand-picked wines, select whiskey, specialty cocktails and craft beer. Open to the public, the 21 and older establishment will be reminiscent of a classic Country Club with intimate dining areas including a spacious well-appointed patio with secluded tables and seating, as well as an outdoor fireplace for added ambiance and warmth on those cooler evenings. The opening menu calls for dinner, weekend brunch and weekday happy hour. The 6,000 square-foot venue will also feature a dance floor for those who wish to get their groove on.
