FRAME: The Feel of the Past, Re-Invented for the Present

FRAME by Iosa Ghini Design re-imagines traditional kitchen furniture by giving it modern aesthetics and functionality.

As its name suggests, the functional and aesthetic stamp of FRAME is its modular frame, available in lacquer, bronze, stainless steel or pewter. This element defines the design by appearing in the structure of the island and the hood; on top, under or on the side of the wall cabinets; and in the open shelves system that transitions the kitchen into the living room.

Shown below is FRAME in a luxury combination of finishes:

- Lead Grey Micalized Lacquer (cabinetry)
- Bronze (hood and open shelving system)

Create a Minimalist, Yet Highly Personalized Kitchen Space with LOOK

Built around the concept of customization, LOOK by Michele Marcon Design features statement pieces that give homeowners the freedom to organize their kitchen space the way they want it, tailoring it to fit their needs, their personality, and the style of the home. All the while maintaining a sophisticated and minimalist aesthetic.

Shown below is LOOK in a trendy contrast of finishes:

- Arctic White Glossy lacquer (upper cabinets, pantry unit, boiserie)
- Painted Aluminum Town (base cabinets)

Studio Snaidero Houston Hosts Launch Party for Delivery Italiano

In early June, Studio Snaidero Houston hosted the launch party for Delivery Italiano, a subscription meal service that brings authentic Italian ingredients and meals into American homes. The party was headlined by Luca Manfe', the 2013 winner of Master Chef, who cooked up some delicious appetizers for the occasion.

Guests also enjoyed samples of Delivery Italiano's products, including salami, prosciutto, Parmesan cheese, pasta, pesto, olive oil, and Italian cookies – all artfully laid out on the Snaidero kitchens on display at the studio.
