Brian Messana: The minimalist designer in search of a precise, modernist vibe.

A partner in Messana O’Rorke, a New York-based architecture firm, Messana rarely specs kitchens from established brands. “We design all our kitchens from scratch,” he said. But he was ready to be convinced of the ease of the kitchen system.

Another new system that uses Fenix is the Vision kitchen by the Italian brand Snaidero (877-762-4337). While a showroom wasn’t available for a personal visit, the company’s latest attention-grabbing design by Pininfarina—the same group renowned for its luxury sports cars and yachts—flaunts fluid lines and doors coated in a metaescent lacquer that gives it an impactful shine.
